Top 10 Ways to Save at Walgreens

As your one-stop destination for everyday essentials, Walgreens ensures you receive the best prices. Here at BeFrugal.com, we've compiled a guide filled with expert tips on how to save even more at Walgreens.

1. Where to find Walgreens Coupons

Each week, Walgreens will publish coupons and promotional codes ranging from 5% to 30% off online and in-store purchases. For the latest Walgreens coupons and deals, check out BeFrugal.com. You can also find more coupons online at Walgreens.com in their coupons section.

Facebook and Twitter can be another great resource to finding Walgreens deals and coupons. You don't need a Facebook or Twitter account to view their account pages. On the Walgreen's Facebook page, you can now view their interactive weekly ad on the Walgreens Facebook page.

The greatest thing about Walgreens's coupon policy is they allow coupon stacking. Walgreens allows 1 store coupon and 1 manufacturer coupon per item. You can also stack these with Register Rewards towards your final purchase amount. However, the number of coupons used per transaction cannot exceed the number of items you have. But there is no restriction on going through the cashier a second time to split up the number of items and coupons.

2. Check Your Receipt for Register Rewards

Walgreens doesn't offer a rewards card, but they do offer a Register Rewards Program (RRs). For in-store purchases, when you buy qualifying items, at the bottom of your receipt there will be RRs worth $1 to $10 that can be used towards your next purchase. However there are limitations – if you purchase more than one of the same item that are eligible for RRs, you will only receive 1 RRs coupon. To get RRs for each of the same item, you will have to make separate transactions. You can ask a sales associate for more info on Register Rewards.

3. Find Walgreens Weekly Ad

Grab your Walgreens weekly ad flyer and coupon booklet in the front of the store at all locations or online at Walgreens.com. You can also find the weekly ad flyer in your local Sunday Newspaper. The weekly ad flyer and coupon booklet will include the best deals for the week at Walgreens and which products are eligible for Register Rewards.

4. Sign up for Email Alerts

To receive exclusive coupons and deals right to your inbox, enroll in Walgreens email subscriptions. You can select to receive a variety of e-newsletters on Special Deals & Savings, Photo News & Offers, Health & Pharmacy, Weekly Ad Sneak Peek, and Diabetes.

5. The Walgreens Card

To help lower healthcare costs on prescriptions and other health items at Walgreens, we recommend applying for the Walgreens Card. This card is a platform card that can carry multiple Walgreens programs that save you money, such as: Walgreens Prescription Savings Club, Walgreens Wellness Benefit and Walgreens Bonuses.

The Walgreens Prescription Savings Club can help patients with no prescription drug coverage save on medications for the whole family, including pets. A small membership fee does apply for this program but can save you hundreds yearly on your prescriptions.

The Walgreens Wellness Benefit program offers funding on your Walgreens Card by your employer or healthcare provider to help pay for eligible health items, such as: First aid supplies, blood pressure monitors, vitamins, reading classes and much more.

With the Walgreens Bonuses program, you'll earn bonuses on all Walgreens brand item purchases. Bonuses earned will be applied to future purchase totals. You can view your bonus earnings and redemptions on your receipt after each transaction (there are exclusions on certain products)
